

latin-american-studies.utah.edu

DISCIPLINARY CONCENTRATION

COURSEWORK [24 credits]

<input type="checkbox"/> Methods Course:
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>

Courses chosen in conjunction with your committee

- One course must be a methods course from your chosen disciplinary concentration
- A minimum of four classes (12 credits) must be taken from your chosen disciplinary concentration or interdisciplinary area of study (ie, Environmental Studies)

THESIS HOURS [6 credits]

<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>

LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

Third-year proficiency language

Students are required to reach a minimum of third-year proficiency in one Latin American language and first-year proficiency in a second Latin American language.

First-year proficiency language

Choose from the following languages offered at the University of Utah: Nahuatl, Quechua, Portuguese, Spanish